

WHO SHALL BE INSPECTORS?JUDGE WESTBROOK'S COMMAND TO THE POLICE COMMISSIONERS.*Shall the Tammany Hall Nominees be Appointed?—Threats of Litigation on Both Sides—Some Very Interesting Speculations.

In reply to a question submitted by Messrs. Van Wyck, Campbell, Secor, and others, Mr. George Teller or Curtis has written a long letter concerning the powers and duties of the Police Board. He says that the duties as a lawyer merely, and not as a politician, and closes thus: "I am of opinion that under the arrangement the Board are bound to allow the Tammany organization to nominate a list from which the Democratic Inspectors are to be chosen." Upon the application of Mr. David Dudley Field, Judge Westbrook made an order, yesterday, requiring the Police Commissioners to show why Tammany Hall's candidates for Inspectors of Election should not be appointed. The Judge also forbade any appointment until after argument is heard on Monday next.

Judge Westbrook's order is the absorbing topic of politics now. The prevailing opinion was that the Tammany leaders had no hope of the appointment of their inspectors of election, and that a candid investigation of a mandamus was made either to keep up the courage of their followers or to put obstacles in the way of the registration of voters.

The Tammany leaders say, "An Irving Hall Democrat said, "that while the Courts have an undoubted right to order the Police Commissioners to do what they can to nominate Inspectors, they have no authority to direct who shall be appointed." The Courts may order the appointment of Democratic and two Republican Inspectors in every election district, and they cannot say whether the Democratic inspectors shall be Tammany or anti-Tammany men.

It seems to me, we cannot agree for this mandamus with any expectation that it will be granted. It is strange, the gentleman considered the motion of Mr. Curtis, and after his outdoor work of training, and altogether seems in the best of trim for the coming event. He is of course disappointed at the course things have taken, but says that he came to Chautauqua to row, and that if the other side insist upon a postponement he will submit and try the issue in good faith. He is perfectly satisfied with the choice of referees and speaks in the highest terms of Mr. Van Wyck's ability as an arbitrator. A candid investigation of a mandamus was made either to keep up the courage of their followers or to put obstacles in the way of the registration of voters.

Courtney brought in the special car in which he travelled from Rochester two racing boats, which were carefully packed and transferred to the steamer. The boats are to be sent to him to be taken to his quarters to-morrow.

COURTNEY AND HANLAN.Their Preparations for the Coming Contest on Lake Chautauqua.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Charles E. Courtney arrived at Lake Chautauqua at noon to-day. He is accompanied by his trainer, "Frenchy" Johnson, and his nephew, Robert A. Larnour. Courtney's representative, Mr. Brister, has gone to Toronto to get if possible a satisfactory explanation of the newly arranged programme.

Arrived at Chautauqua the party took dinner at Lake View and then went by the steamer Grinnell to Mayville.

Though somewhat fatigued at the proposed meeting, Courtney is an excellent swimmer and in good condition. He looks improved from his outdoor work of training, and altogether seems in the best of trim for the coming event. He is of course disappointed at the course things have taken, but says that he came to Chautauqua to row, and that if the other side insist upon a postponement he will submit and try the issue in good faith.
